I enjoy the view from here.
The van is old, dirty, and rusted.
We must take the dog to the vet on Saturday.
We read about the issues and then went to vote.
The flowers on the trumpet vine look like trumpets.
The weather vane will tell which way the wind is blowing.
The leaf has a red vein in the middle.
My great aunt's white hat has a lace veil.
We put some flowers in the vase.
The vent takes fumes out of the studio.
The kayaker is wearing a red life vest.
The bank keeps its money in the vault.
The old metal vise has a strong grip.
I wonder when they will build on the vacant lot?
This little vacuum is very powerful.
The red visor is hanging on the doorknob.
The volume is turned down low.
This African village is made of mud.
The vial has not yet been opened, it is sealed.
Turn the valve to increase the pressure.

The ivy is growing on the wall by the steps.
The plane is flying over the field.
One diver is helping to balance the other.
There is a thin cover of snow on the sidewalk.
The heavy snow bent the branches.
Take your temperature if you think you have a fever.
I would like five dollars at pump seven please.
Use a level when you are building shelves.
The heavy anvil is fastened to the table.
The lava rock is very colorful.
The truck is leaving the factory.
The river is narrow at this point.
The canvas bag is on the door.
The sharp cleaver is on the cutting board.
The green clover has some dried grass in it.
The vine is growing over the gravel.
The short driveway has a lamp at the end.
They are moving out today.
We spent the evening under the palm tree.
The avocado has a seed in the middle.

The hive is attached to the ceiling.
The wave has splashed up on the rock.
The dog is getting a shave.
They are using a loom to weave the carpet.
Please pick some leaves from the chive plant.
They are getting ready to dive.
There is a cave at the bottom of the cliff.
They are taking the ferry, since they cannot drive across the lake.
The recipe calls for a clove of garlic.
The trees are planted in rows in the orange grove.
The heavy glove will protect your hand.
He is making pancakes on the stove.
The sleeve has a cuff on the end.
The sign says that there is a curve ahead.
It took a long time to carve this sculpture.
The green olive has a pimento inside.
They are working above the store.
There are five blades on the ship's prop.
The microwave is under the cabinets.
The valve is turned off.
